

EXHIBIT 6

KTRS-AM License, L.L.C. (“Licensee”), the licensee of Station KTRS, is a Missouri limited liability company. Licensee is owned 100 percent by KTRS-AM, L.L.C. (f/k/a KSD-AM, L.L.C.), which in turn is 100 percent owned by CH Holdings, L.L.C. (“Holdings”), also a Missouri limited liability company. Holdings has been the indirect sole owner of Licensee since Licensee acquired Station KTRS on July 3, 1997, pursuant to Commission authority dated April 17, 1997 (File No. BAL-19961230EA).

Holdings has raised additional capital from investors during the time following the filing of Licensee’s Form 314 assignment application with the FCC (“Assignment Application”). The additional capital was raised both from investors that were included in the Assignment Application and from new investors who first invested in Holdings after the filing of the Assignment Application. Although the additional investment by new investors has caused a gradual decrease of Holdings’ ownership by originally “passed upon” members over the years, to a point below 50 percent, the personnel managing the day-to-day operations of the Station has remained substantially unchanged during this period. In addition, Holdings’ investors listed in the Assignment Application have constituted a majority of the members of Holdings’ Board of Directors, which is the company’s main governing body, since Holdings’ organization.

Specifically, Timothy C. Dorsey, the founder of the Licensee’s KTRS project, has been Holdings’ president and chief executive officer, Mark Dorsey has been the sales director, and Fred Zielonko has been the station manager since the formation of Holdings. Timothy Dorsey has also served as Licensee’s president and chief executive officer since its formation.

Holdings currently has an 11-member Board of Directors, of which six seats are held by the following persons listed in the Assignment Application: Tim Dorsey, Robert Nolan, Jr., Robert Nolan, Sr., Paul Lorenzini, William Frisella and Jerry Clinton.

In conclusion, the gradual change in ownership of Holdings in recent years has had no impact on de facto control of the management and operation of Station KTRS.

There is no written or oral agreement relating to the subject transfer of control.